Ericka D. Jackson discovered her passion for speaking, leading and entrepreneurship when she was 12 years old as she witnessed her parents build the family business into multi-million dollar enterprise.

While overcoming years of bullying and teasing she learned how to focus her insecurities into inspiring those around her. She has been making audiences rise to their feet ever since.

During her more than 25 years of building businesses (and a ministry), she has created a vault of highly sought-after trainings, certifications, and resources, built an international network of thousands, and is proficient in the transformational process that accelerates clients and audiences into living their visions faster than they can achieve on their own.

Ericka is the author of numerous CDs, podcasts, articles, trainings, teaching tools and six books and the creator of the P12 Business Building System™ Curriculum and continues to train and equip Christians to build thriving ministries beyond the walls of the church structure and businesses that improve lives and impact communities.

Ericka is available for keynote addresses, Emceeing events and Training & Development. You can learn more about Ericka and her life's work at www.ErickaJackson.com and www.TouchandAgreeCWB.com.
